NHS Walsall Community Health to relaunch online

We are delighted to have been selected by Walsall Community Health (opens new window) to provide a new organisational website to act as a key tool for communication for health users, external stakeholders and staff.

We'll be delivering our health-focused discovery phase to assist the trust in establishing their requirements, followed by design and content managed website build.

This is another Connect win in the health sector, demonstrating further our understanding of the drivers and requirements for PCTs.
