NHS Centre for Evidence-based Purchasing

Part of NHS PASA (Purchasing and Supply Agency), the Centre for Evidence-based Purchasing (CEP) provides impartial and objective information about medical technology to help the NHS make better purchasing decisions.

Connect will be developing a stand-alone web-based application with a back-end database and admin system that will enable CEP to fulfil their requirements in providing reports and guidance to help key decision-makers build business cases to underpin purchasing.

Connect's Project Manager, Veronica Ellis, said, "This is a very exciting project for Connect and we are thrilled to be working with CEP. Our wealth of experience in the development of database-driven solutions will enable us to successfully partner CEP to deliver an effective solution that meets their needs."
