Knowsley Housing Trust website refresh

Connect is delighted to be working with Knowsley Housing Trust to refresh their current organisational website. The new site will not only incorporate Knowsley Housing Trust's new corporate branding, it will also include additional functionality whilst enhancing usability. The Trust is keen to develop its web services and is looking to maximise the usefulness of the site to its core target audience.

Connect's Public Sector Director, Carole Boardman, said "We are really delighted to have this opportunity. We're confident of building a great partnership that will put our expertise at the disposal of the Trust and result in a next-generation web presence that delivers excellent services to all its users."

Connect will be delivering requirements-gathering workshops for the Trust's stakeholders as well as designing and building the new site. The site will be underpinned by the Umbraco content management system and user support will be provided through our accredited training services.
